

K.I.S.S.
November 12, 2006
Brian Fillmore

We've all heard of the K.I.S.S. principle. Life is not simple and it seems to get more complex every day. We complicate things by allowing things that really aren't important to distract us. Wouldn't it simplify life if we knew the one thing that really is important? It would make our choices clearer. What if God broke it down for us so that we only had one thing to focus on?

One thing I _____: the change Jesus made in my life

What has Jesus done to change your life?

One thing I _____: a close relationship with Jesus

How will you sit at Jesus' feet this week?

One thing I _____: continuous fellowship with the Lord

How will you show that your desire is to dwell with Him?

One thing I _____: choose to leave the past behind

What is your "it" that you need to leave behind?